

HARPER ADAMS UNIVERSITY COLLEGE PROFESSIONAL & CAREER DEVELOPMENT SERVICE

An Introduction to Farm Animal Management and Production

Course Manager: Alan Stewart

2012 Course Dates

29-31 August 2012

These dates have been set for the coming year however there is a group size constraint given the practical nature of the livestock unit visits and places will be awarded as applications are received. If demand is high then additional dates may be added so please indicate on the application form if you would consider another date.

If delegates are coming from a distance we prefer that you arrive the evening before. This gives you an opportunity to register and settle in.

Course Fees 2012

Tuition and supervision		£210
Full board 3 nights		£110
Full board 2 nights		£80
Non resident Lunch and refreshments		£30
Total

Application Process

- Complete the Registration form and post to: Short Course Office , Harper Adams University College, Newport, Shropshire TF10 8NB
- Registrations of interest will be logged and a full application pack sent out.
- Applications and remittances will be logged in sequence
- 4-6 weeks prior to the course the course notes (50 pages) will be sent to delegates to allow an opportunity to prepare and make the most of the time on site.

Award

The course carries 5 HE credits and to qualify an assessment is made at the end of the course. An example of the short answer test is included in the course notes. Results will be provisionally notified within three weeks of the course such that delegates may include the information on university applications.
